

SPAC Product Fact Sheet

Background

Recognizing the evolution and growth of the SPAC market internationally, particularly in the United States, Nasdaq has updated its Nordic Main Market Rulebook for Issuers of Shares to include specific rules governing the admission of SPACs. SPACs are blank- check companies whose purpose is to complete one or more business combinations within a certain time period. SPACs raise capital in an initial public offering with the proceeds held in a Deposit account until released to fund the business combination. Upon closing of the business combination, the SPAC combines with the identified target to form a listed operating company. In recent years, SPAC IPOs have grown both in volume and in gross proceeds.

Nasdaq's revised rules, in line with those in the United States, are intended to create flexibility in the Nordic Market listing regulations for SPACs, encourage SPACs to list on the Nordic Markets and generate investor interest while providing clarity on requirements and ensuring adequate protection of investors.

Typical Lifecycle of a SPAC

 Full listing review performed by Exchange Auditor with decision by Listing Committee.

Listing to business Combination Announcement

 SPAC has up to 36 months from its IPO to identify a target and complete the business combination

Announcement to Closing

 Typically 4-6 months from business combination announcement to closing of the merger, subject to full listing review, publication of prospectus and other regulatory approvals.

Specific Requirements for SPACs on Nasdaq Nordic.

Under the rules adopted today, SPACs seeking admission on the Nordic Markets will have the following key features:

- At least 90% of the IPO's gross proceeds and any other sale of equity securities to be deposited in a Deposit account;
- Organizational documents providing for redemption rights for shareholders in connection with the business combination under certain circumstances;
- Within 36 months (or less), completion of one or more business combination reaching a value of at least 80% of proceeds deposited in Deposit account.

Requirement of sufficient liquidity of shares (i.e. 25% of shares are publicly held by at least 500/300 (if LP) qualified shareholders). <sup>1</sup>

- Approval of each proposed business combination by a majority of the independent directors and a majority of the shareholders;
- Initiation of a new listing process after the SPAC's entry into a definitive business combination agreement; and
- Requirement of sufficient liquidity of shares (i.e. 25% of shares are publicly held by at least 500/300 (if LP) qualified shareholders).<sup>1</sup>

In addition, Sponsors of SPACs will have flexibility to incorporate other key features of SPACs seen in international markets, including combined share and warrant offerings and sponsor promote structures to align the interests of sponsors and investors and incentivize successful transactions.

How to list a Special Purpose Acquisition Company (SPAC) on the Nordic Markets?

Under the rules adopted today, SPACs seeking admission on the Nordic Markets are subject to the same requirements as other companies, with the addition of the specific SPAC requirements above, and with the exception of the requirements to:

- publish or file certain historical financial information; and
- provide information regarding the SPAC's business operations and operating history.
