

Capital Association

Price in DKK excl VAT (January 2025)

The price list applies to private equity funds admitted to trading either in the investment fund market or in the market for alternative investment funds (AIF Market).

When calculating the annual amount for admission to trading that capital associations must pay to Nasdaq Copenhagen A / S, capital associations are always considered as one association if different capital associations under the same investment management company have a close affiliation, for example name coincidence, board coincidence, and / or marketing primarily together with one financial institution. Capital associations that have an independent profile and are marketed independently are invoiced separately regardless of the capital association's choice of investment management company.

The relationship between capital associations and investment management companies is not always unambiguous. In specific cases, individual estimates can be made in the design of the invoicing basis.
